Complete Accord On Germany

Three Powers Ready To End Military Control, To Keep Civilian Control

WASHINGTON, April 8.—(AP)—The United States, Britain and France announced today they are ready to end military control over western Germany as soon as a proposed "German federal republic" is set up.

Occupation forces would remain in Germany under top civilian control.

A joint communiqué said "complete agreement" on "the whole range" of outstanding German issues was reached in conferences here among the foreign ministers of the three powers—Secretary of State Acheson, Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin of Britain, and Foreign Minister Robert Schuman of France.

The pronouncement appeared certain to harden further the differences between the three powers, on the one hand, and Russia, on the other, over Germany's future. Diplomatic authorities here anticipate it will touch off fresh propaganda blasts from the Soviets.

Replace Military Governors

With the establishment of the German republic, the communiqué said, the military governors in Germany will be replaced by high commissioners and military commanders will remain only to head the occupation forces.

It was added that "the functions of the allied authorities will become mainly supervisory." The high commissioners "will be the supreme allied agency of control."

Simple Form of Text

The agreement also covered these other specific points, according to the announcement:

1. The text of an occupation statute was worked out "in a new and simpler form" and is now being dispatched to the German Parliamentary council at Bonn, where the constitution for a western German government is being drafted.

2. Basic principles were developed "to govern the exercise of allied powers and responsibilities" and three-power control machinery was worked out.

3. Plans dismantling arrangements, policies governing prohibited and restricted industries and the establishments of an international Ruhr authority—all previously negotiated in London—were confirmed and approved here.

4. The proposed German government will, when established, negotiate its own European recovery agreement with the United States and "should participate as a full member in the organization for European economic cooperation."

Will Define Powers

"The occupation statute," the announcement said, "will define the powers to be retained by the occupation authorities upon the establishment of the German federal republic and set forth basic law and with their respective constitutions."

"The statute aims to permit the German people to exercise democratic self government. Provision is made for a review of the terms of the statute after a year in force."

The final meeting of the big three foreign ministers was held at Acheson's office this morning. It lasted less than an hour and consisted of confirming the agreement already worked out in conferences Wednesday and Thursday.

Cleared the Boards

The German government cleared the boards of the last really major split among the western powers.

The official statement said that the German government authorities "will be at liberty to take administrative and legislative action and such actions will have validity if not disapproved by allied authorities."

Objections to Gov. Smith's New Tax Plan

Subcommittee Takes up Matter Again Today

JEFFERSON CITY, April 8.—(AP)—A special subcommittee tackled Missouri's road troubles today, trying to clear the way for a gasoline tax increase.

Gov. Forrest Smith's new plan—three cents a gallon for state highways and another cent earmarked for rural roads—failed to win the approval of his advisory highway committee yesterday.

The all-day session was held behind closed doors. But it was reported by committee members who asked not to be identified that at least three major objections were raised to Smith's plan:

(1) That it might be unconstitutional. Smith said he thought the legislature has plenty of power to earmark funds for rural roads. Some committee members disagreed.

(2) That the revenue from three cents of the proposed four-cent tax would leave the state highway commission nearly $20,000,000 short of having enough to keep up the main highway system, match federal funds and build farm-to-market and city projects.

(3) That the big cities which pay a big share of the gasoline tax would be antagonized in the attempt to appease county courts in rural areas. County courts and farm groups objected vigorously to Smith's first plan.

It calls for a straight four-cent tax with all the money going to the highway commission. The commission promised 60 per cent of the extra money would be spent on rural roads. Objectors said the promise wasn't a strong enough guarantee to suit them.

Bill Pending
That bill is pending before a House committee. Legislators have expressed doubt that it could pass either the committee or the House.

On the special subcommittee studying the whole puzzle are Rep. Milton Duvall (D) of Clarksville, Rep. W. N. McDonald (R) of Joplin, Sen. William Quinn (D) of Maywood, Sen. J. E. Curry (R) of Ava, and George Koch (D) St. Joseph contractor. Duvall is chairman of the House roads committee which has the first plan before it.

Saffo, Shrunken Bovine, is Interesting to Veterinarians
EVERETT, Wash., April 8.—(AP)—Roy Tower, who lives just outside this Northwest Washington city, has a full-grown cow smaller than a sow.

He calls her Saffo. Whatta critter is Saffo, the shrunken bovine. She stands two feet tall and weighs three feet long and weighs 90 pounds. A veterinarian says she is two to three years old. "Saffo is not all cow," cattlemen assert sternly.

"Saffo's got to be a cow," maintains Tower. "I bought her at the cattle yards up at Snohomish."

Drowns When Boat Overturns

BISMARCK, Mo., April 8.—(AP)—James Miller, 16, drowned early today when a boat overturned in New Iron Mountain lake south of here, state highway patrolmen reported. Two companions swam to safety.

Authorities were dragging the lake for the body of the Bismarck youth. His companions, Charles Dace, 21, and Ward Kindersperger, were treated here for exposure.

Guilty Forging Passport For Russian Agent

OTTAWA, April 8.—(AP)—A jury today convicted Sam Carr of conspiring to utter a forged passport for a Russian agent.

The jury of 11 men deliberated for 90 minutes. Sentence was deferred. Carr took the verdict calmly. His wife, who has been on hand since the trial opened Tuesday, appeared stunned.

Court was adjourned by Judge A. G. McDougall until later in the day, when he will hear a final plea for defense counsel.

Arrested In New York

Carr, 43-year-old Russian-born former organizing secretary of the Labor-Progressive party, the name the Communists use in Canada, testified yesterday that he left Canada in January, 1946, a month before the big Russian spy probe broke. He said he had a passport to Cuba. He was arrested in New York two months ago.

Judge A. G. McDougall told the jury the crux of the case lay in the evidence of Dr. John Soboloff of Toronto, who testified that Carr had asked him in 1945 to sign a passport application for a man whom he did not know, named Ignacy Witezak. Against this was Carr's flat denial.

Nomination A Surprise

NORFOLK, Va., April 8.—(AP)—Stephen T. Early said today his nomination by President Truman as under secretary of defense "came to me as a surprise."

He added, however, that "I had 24 hours forewarning that something might be done."

"Mrs. Early didn't know it and my office didn't know it," Early told newsmen on his return to Norfolk aboard the carrier Midway from which he and 60 other prominent civilians witnessed Naval task force exercises off the Virginia capes.

Freight Cars Derailed

BRAYMER, Mo., April 8.—(AP)—Five freight cars of a westbound Milwaukee train were derailed early today in the local yards after the train had been struck by a motor car.

Station agent George Reich said the driver of the car, an 18-year-old Braymer youth was not injured.

Reich said the derailment probably would tie up traffic through here until this afternoon.

Congress to Know More Of Farm Draft

Methods, Rather Than Objectives, Will Be Debated

By Ovid A. Martin

WASHINGTON, April 8.—(AP)—A somewhat skeptical Congress took a "tell-us-more" attitude today toward the administration's new farm program. It is aimed at cutting consumer grocery bills and keeping farmers prosperous at the same time.

"I want to hear more about it, how it would operate, and what it would cost the taxpayers," was the typical reaction of members of Congress who heard Secretary of Agriculture Brannan outline the plan yesterday.

The secretary was called before the House Agriculture committee today to answer questions. He sketched the program before a joint meeting of the House and Senate committees yesterday, but there was not time for members to inquire extensively into its provisions.

Even so, it was quite apparent that the plan faces tough going. It drew immediate sharp criticism from some Republican farm-state leaders. The powerful American Farm Bureau Federation indicated it will stand pat in its support of present farm laws. At its last convention, the bureau went on record against a farmer-payment plan included in the administration plan.

Democrats Withhold Judgment
Democrats as a whole withheld judgment. Chairman Elmer Thomas (D-Okla.) of the Senate Agriculture committee said he was in "full accord" with the plan's objectives. But he did not commit himself on its methods.

The methods, rather than the objectives, will be the subject of debate and controversy. Expected to arouse sharp opposition are these provisions of the program:

(1) Use of government payments to farmers to assure them a minimum return for such products as hogs, cattle, lambs, milk, butterfat, eggs, poultry, fruits and vegetables.

If the price set by the free-play of supply and demand failed to give the producer a pre-determined minimum return, the government would make up the difference in the form of a check drawn upon the treasury.

Abandonment Parity System
(2) Abandonment of the parity system of determining so-called "fair" price goals for farm products. Adopted in the first year of the Roosevelt New Deal, this system has been the backbone of farm-aid programs ever since. It would be supplanted by a new system designed to assure agriculture a certain minimum income rather than minimum crop prices.

(3) Provisions for broadening government controls on farm operations. These face stiff opposition. Farmers would be required to cooperate with all government programs affecting all products produced by them and to comply with soil conservation programs in order to be eligible for any price-support aid.

While the government holds it already has such wide control authority, the power has never been used.

Former Indian Village Found

COLUMBIA, Mo., April 8.—(AP)—Eighteen former village sites and two cave habitations representing four different Indian culture periods have been charted along the White river in southern Missouri and northern Arkansas.

Carl M. Chapman, director of American archeology at the University of Missouri, reported today the sites were located in a recent survey of the area.

At one of the villages, Chapman said, archeologists found evidence of the pre-pottery Indian culture, probably before 500 A. D. Other cultures included those of the Ozark bluff dwellers, the woodlands, the middle Mississippians and the Delewareans and the Osages.

The survey was conducted by the Universities of Missouri and Arkansas, the Missouri Archeological Society and the Smithsonian Institution. Sites were charted for further exploration before the waters of Bull Shoals dam covers the area.

Semi-Pro Tournery To Jefferson City

KANSAS CITY, April 8.—(AP)—Jefferson City was announced today as the site for the annual Missouri state semi-pro baseball tournament.

Claude C. Rowe, the state semi-pro commissioner, said the double elimination tournament will be played in the Capital City from July 15 to July 30. It will be sponsored by the Jefferson City Junior Chamber of Commerce.

He said the winning team would be guaranteed a pot of $1,000.

Under the playing schedule day games will be played on Saturdays and Sundays and night games the other days of the week. The closing entry date is June 30.

Rowe said the tournament is open to any semi-pro team, with the exception of professional teams and barnstormers. He said he expected from 24 to 32 teams to take part.

Radio Taxicab Service Was Too Fast For Woman

BINGHAMPTON, N. Y., April 8.—(AP)—Short wave radio brought taxicab service too fast for a Binghampton housewife.

She telephoned for a taxi; the cab company used its radio system to notify a driver whose car was next door to the woman's house. She had barely hung up the telephone, when the driver arrived.

"I won't ride with you," she said sternly. "You drive too fast, young man."

She called another taxicab company.

Club Speaker Commander From St. Louis

Program Presented By International Affairs Committee

"Bridle Your Viewpoint" was the topic of a talk given the Business and Professional Women's club and guests at a dinner meeting at the Bothwell hotel, Thursday evening, by Lt. Commander, A. E. Ramsdale, St. Louis, in charge of the Salvation Army Midland Division, including Missouri and part of Illinois.

He explained how people have different viewpoints, no two see things alike, and it is true of international affairs as well as of minor personal affairs. Only truth in each other will bring about peace, he explained, brotherly love is needed in the world, and he stated the Salvation Army operates in many countries, using altogether 100 languages.

Referring to the Atlantic Pact, he brought out the fact to the United States and countries aligned with them the instrument means peace, while the same document to the Russians means a forerunner of war.

Introduction by Mrs. Rush

The speaker was introduced by Mrs. A. R. Rush, wife of Capt. St. Louis, of the local unit of the Salvation Army. Mrs. Rush is chairman of the club's international relations committee.

Lamm and Mrs. Lamm, Harry Lindstrom and Mrs. Lindstrom, and also on the board were three club members, Miss Eva Evans, Miss Hazel Palmer and Mrs. John Welch.

Special music was furnished during the evening by a sextet of the Salvation Army, five from St. Louis, directed by Capt. Victor D. Diehlson, of Chicago. They were instrumental, vocal and piano numbers.

Texan Held in Robbery Case

KANSAS CITY, April 8.—(AP)—Calvin Haskin Treadway, 35, Harlingen, Tex., was held here today on $25,000 bond for federal court action on a charge of entering a bank with intent to rob.

Treadway was arraigned before Charles H. Thompson, United States commissioner, a few hours after the South Side bank here was robbed of $745.

Harold Gross, bank teller, identified Treadway as the man who handed him a note demanding "fives up to hundreds" and fled after he was given the money.

Treadway was arrested 30 minutes later in Kansas City, Kas., by detectives who had been alerted by radio to watch for a car bearing "orange and black license plates."

The detectives, Lieut. Joseph Shick and John Theroff, said they found $580 in the radio speaker of the car driven by Treadway, and $165 in his billfold.

At his arraignment, Treadway said he had been in the bank. "I didn't rob the bank," he said. "When you rob a bank you use a gun. I didn't do that."

Obtains World Patent On New Type Lens

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, April 8.—(AP)—A Danish engineer said today he has obtained a world patent on a new type lens for making three-dimensional motion pictures.

The inventor, Egon Wendelboe Schriever, said he has developed "a new sort of optic lens, which may be fitted on any camera." He predicted it will "revolutionize the film industry" but declined to describe the lens in detail.

President May Seek New Fund For Arms Plan

Vigorous Protests From Republicans, Some Democrats

By Jack Bell

WASHINGTON, April 8.—(AP)—President Truman appeared headed today toward a new fight with a large part of Congress over his plans for financing arms for western Europe.

Mr. Truman's indication he may seek additional money above the $15,000,000 already proposed for national defense brought vigorous protests from Republicans as well as some members of his own party.

In his news conference yesterday the president did not rule out entirely the possibility that other funds might be pared.

Senator Wherry of Nebraska, the GOP floor leader, said that if the president asks for more money, Congress may have to choose between in-the-red spending or increased taxes. Mr. Truman told his news conference he still wants taxes raised.

Confidence in Program
(The president expressed confidence last night in his general program. He said in a telegram to the convention of Americans for Democratic in Chicago: "As long as the people know where we are going and that we are going there I do not worry over petty and temporary victories by obstructionists.")

Wherry told a reporter he thinks "the only sensible thing to do is to put all the foreign aid proposals together, cut them down where it is necessary and keep spending within the limits of current receipts."

"If the president insists on piling European arms expenditures on top of all the other budget requests, we'll either have to increase taxes—which will mean a depression and hard times—or start deficit spending, which will mean new and bigger inflation," he declared.

Similarly, Chairman George (D-Ga.) of the Senate Finance committee said he doesn't think the European arms program can be separated from the domestic defense program.

Should Come From Budget
Senator Millikin of Colorado, who heads the conference of all Republican senators, told the Senate yesterday that the European arms costs ought to be taken out of the $5,580,000,000 proposed authorization for foreign economic recovery.

However, Senator Myers of Pennsylvania, acting Democratic leader, said he feels confident that necessary funds to help the western European countries get back on their military feet will be forthcoming.

There may be long debate on this question, Myers said, "but if the treaty is ratified by the Senate, I believe Congress will implement it by voting for giving our allies the arms they need."

Back For Baby They Gave Away

BUTLER, Pa., April 8.—(AP)—The strong pull of parental love today prompted a young New York couple to return for the infant son they admitted abandoning in a Butler vestibule.

Conrad Earl Melquist, 23, of Bemus Point, N. Y., and his wife, Marjorie, 20, voluntarily surrendered to police.

"I'd give my right arm for the baby," the young mother sobbed. Arraigned before Alderman J. D. Carr, the youthful parents were ordered held for court on a charge of child abandonment. They pleaded guilty.

The two-week-old infant was found in a Butler doorway Tuesday. He is thriving in Butler hospital. His parents said poverty and "fear of scandal" led them to abandon him.

They said they returned because: "We were both sorry for what we had done and we were forgiven at home and urged to return for our child."

Melquist said he and his wife were married in October. He is unemployed.

Loin Lamb Chops Higher

NEW YORK, April 7.—(AP)—The price of loin lamb chops climbed to a high of $1.25 a pound here, the City Department of Markets reported yesterday. A week ago, the price was $1.05, the report said.

The 34-year-old Zinner said today he doesn't see why people can't get all the advantages of a private home in an apartment house.

He can't see, for instance, why children have to be "caged birds" in a multi-family dwelling. He doesn't want that for the 90 kids on his property.

So, Zinner plans to install a hobby room, a gymnasium and recreation rooms in his six-building Weylton Road development.

Zinner says he'll install television sets, juke boxes, a

He'll go Back to Cork Ammunition

KANSAS CITY, April 8.—(AP)—Five-year-old Ronald Dean Cash is going back to standard ammunition for his pop gun as soon as he gets out of the hospital.

The regular load for the toy weapon is a cork. But Ronald got more zip out of it yesterday by inserting a blank 30-30 caliber rifle cartridge.

The boy suffered a laceration of the left leg and a fractured finger when the cartridge exploded. He was admitted to a hospital for treatment.

Uel W. Lamkin on West Point Board

MARYVILLE, Mo., April 8.—(AP)—Dr. Uel W. Lamkin, president emeritus of the Northwest Missouri State Teachers college, has received his commission as a member of the board of visitors of the U. S. military academy at West Point.

The board, consisting of six presidential appointees, four senators and five representatives, will visit the academy the last week in April. Dr. Lamkin's appointment, made by President Truman, is for the year ending Dec. 31, 1949.

North Atlantic Military Aid Plan in Brief

WASHINGTON, April 8.—(AP)—The North Atlantic military program at a glance:

Nations Asking U. S. Help:
The Brussels pact group of Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg. Individual requests came from Italy, Denmark and Norway.

Reasons For the Request
None of the countries acting alone can build up its military strength enough to provide an adequate defense of western Europe.

The European Contribution
Mutual aid and coordinated strategic plans in the interest of maximum security.

Greater military effort consistent with economic objectives and cost limits.

The U. S. Response

The government "is prepared to recommend to Congress that military and financial help be extended on such terms."

The requesting countries should provide "as soon as possible" a detailed statement of specific needs.

Cost
Unofficially estimated at $1,250,000,000 for the first 12 months.

Secretary of State Acheson said the official figure can be known until President Truman reviews the program now being drafted.

Why American Help

In Acheson's words: "The provision of arms and equipment to free and friendly nations is in the highest interests of the American people."

"Our security and peace necessarily rest in the combined security and peace of the democratic world."

Two Fishermen Missing

HANNIBAL, Mo., April 8.—(AP)—Two Quincy, Ill., men who went fishing in the Mississippi river yesterday were missing today. They were Rudolph Osborne and his son, Edward. Their boat, which had overturned, was found in the river at Hannibal about 6 o'clock last night, some three hours after they left Quincy.

Increase School Levy

KANSAS CITY, April 8.—(AP)—The Board of Education last night approved a 4-mill school levy increase.

The increase proposal to be submitted to voters May 10 would raise approximately 2 million dollars. It would add 40 cents for each $100 valuation, and would increase the operating levy from $1 to $1.40 on the $100 valuation.

A Vote For Charlie
LONDON, April 8.—(AP)—Prince Charles got a vote in the London county election.

One voter wrote on his ballot yesterday, "Good Old Charlie."

That's a popular British cheer for the son of Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh.

The vote was not counted. As royalty Charles is not entitled to run for office.

Eight Ask Adequate Armament

Congress Will be Asked to Provide Military Assistance To The Countries

By John M. Hightower

WASHINGTON, April 8.—(AP)—Eight of America's European allies urgently appealed today for both guns and dollars to build up their military power for defense of the west under the North Atlantic treaty.

They were told in reply that the United States government is "prepared to recommend" that Congress enact a program of military aid covering both arms and financial assistance.

Secretary of State Acheson described this program as "in the highest interest of the American people."

But he said he cannot yet estimate its total cost.

Acheson emphasized in a statement accompanying the release of an exchange of notes between the United States and the eight countries that the documents "in no sense represent a price tag to be placed upon the (Atlantic) pact."

Appeals Are Consistent

He said the appeals for help "are consistent with the spirit" of the alliance signed here only last Monday. The treaty still awaits ratification by the United States Senate and the 11 other participating governments.

The eight requests were submitted by Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg—acting jointly as members of the western European union they set up under the Brussels treaty last year—and by Norway, Denmark and Italy. No plea for help was voiced by Portugal, Iceland or Canada, the other alliance members.

The official appeals and the American reply set the stage for President Truman's forthcoming formal request to Congress for western European military assistance which may amount to $1,250,000,000 and aid to other countries. Together these may raise the total foreign arms costs of the United States next year to around $2,000,000,000.

No Hint of Cost
Acheson said he could not even hint at an official cost figure until after the president has reviewed the program.

In each case, the European allies said substantially the same thing:

"That none of the countries acting alone can provide an adequate armament for its own defense and for its part in the Atlantic defense system."

The State Department replied to this appeal:

"The executive branch of the United States government is prepared to recommend to Congress that the United States provide military assistance (to name of country asking help) in order to assist it to meet the material requirements of its defense program."

"It will be requested of the Congress that such assistance be in the form of military equipment from the United States required by (that country's) defense program and the provision of some financial assistance for (the country's) part required by its defense program. Such

The Daily Washington Merry-go-round

WASHINGTON, April 8—Vice President Barkley, who more and more is becoming the balance wheel of the Truman administration, gave a significant report to the President at last week's cabinet meeting.

The Truman program on Capitol Hill, Barkley told the cabinet, was in much better shape than the public realizes. Furthermore, he predicted that a considerable part of the program will be passed at this session of Congress.

Barkley listed the Housing bill, Aid-to-Education, reciprocal trade and school health as certain to pass. However, he was pessimistic about certain other important bills, especially the Taft-Hartley act, which he said the administration did not have enough votes to repeal.

He was also pessimistic about civil rights, minimum wages — which Truman wants increased to 75 cents an hour — and the national health bill. This, the vice president told the cabinet, could not be passed this year.

Note — Betting among leaders of both parties is that no tax bill will be passed at this session — despite Mr. Truman's emphatic statement that he wanted taxes revised.

Missing Russian Diplomat

It won't be announced publicly, but the assistant secretary of the United Nations, Arcady Soboloff, has mysteriously faded out of the U. N. picture.

Soboloff, who is assistant to secretary general Trygve Lie, went back to Russia on a vacation three months ago with the announced intention of remaining only six weeks. But six weeks have spread out to double that time, and Soboloff has not returned.

Worried, Trygve Lie sent him several cables. No reply. Further investigation showed that Soboloff had carefully removed his files, all his personal belongings, and had drawn all the money due him.

Last week Trygve Lie came to the conclusion that his Russian assistant was deliberately ducking, so sent a cable notifying Soboloff that he was fired.

The Russian was the No. 2 Soviet diplomat in this country, second only to Gromyko. It's believed he will now occupy a top spot in Moscow's diplomatic command.

Noted Artist

Dead of Wound

CANAAN, Conn., April 8—(AP)—Ezra Winter, 63, internationally known artist of mural paintings, was found shot through the head Thursday in the woods behind his home. Beside the body was a shotgun, police said.

Dr. R. C. Sellow, medical examiner, said it was a case of suicide.

The body was discovered by a caretaker on the Winter estate, Fred Blackwell, when he went to call Winter for his routine meal.

State Police Lt. Elton Nolan quoted Blackwell as saying he heard a shot deep in the woods as he went to call Winter in the large studio where he did much of his work. Walking about a quarter of a mile into the woods, Blackwell found the body, sprawled on the ground.

behold. As a result they are sending legislation to the senate, and it is blubbing with bills waiting to be passed. Meanwhile the Senate has been slowed down by a group of reactionary Republicans teamed up with certain southern Democrats, who are consistently and cleverly undercutting almost every liberal piece of legislation to come before Congress.

German Exhibit in New York

Opening in New York tomorrow under the protective wing of the U. S. army is the first German trade exhibit since the war — the German industrial exposition at the Museum of Science and Industry.

The American military government for Germany has promoted the exhibit with the idea of getting German industry back on its feet. As one officer explained it, "we've got to take the financial load off U. S. taxpayers."

U. S. army officials claim they are trying to do a conscientious job of eliminating Nazi exhibitors and by the time the exhibit opens this may have been accomplished. However, at this writing it looks as if some former Nazis had slipped into the picture.

For some strange reason the army has consistently refused to publish the names of the Germans who are coming to New York to represent the exhibitors, yet forty of these German representatives arrived last week, among them Frau Peter Pixis. Frau Pixis' husband was Hitler's favorite architect for Nazi propaganda fairs, and the couple were specialists in setting up Nazi exhibitions in neutral countries overruled by the German army.

When Pixis' record was called to the attention of General Clay, he was barred, though Mrs. Pixis is still in the USA in full charge of exhibition layouts and displays.

Another exhibitor whom Clay barred as a result of last minute protests was Dr. Herbert Gross, whose operations in this country were exposed by a congressional committee before Pearl Harbor.

After the New York opening, it's planned to send the German exhibit to Milwaukee, Chicago, Pittsburgh and Buffalo — if there isn't too much of a howl from the American public.

Driven Out By Gas and Mud

MILAN, Italy, April 8—(AP)—Hundreds of villagers were evacuated Thursday from Basiasso, a north Italian hamlet which suddenly found itself among huge geysers of methane gas and mud. The biggest reportedly fountained 5,000 feet in the air.

Police said the evacuation was ordered because of the danger of fires and explosions from the inflammable, colorless gas, which normally is formed by rotting vegetable matter. One dispatch reported some panic among the frightened villagers.

The gas is slipping through cracks in the earth with terrific pressure, police reported. The presence of petroleum has not been noted.

Refugees from Basiasso (normal population 1,000) were streaming from the danger area carrying their belongings and leading their livestock. Engineers were trying to cap the flow of gas, without apparent success.

Found "Rattlesnake" Plastic Rattler

ST. LOUIS, April 8—(AP)—The neighborhood was thrown into confusion Thursday when two workmen reported finding a rattlesnake in a garage behind a St. Louis home.

Police Sgt. Edward Grabowski, summoned to the scene, picked up a shovel and severed the snake's head with one mighty blow.

Closer examination showed it was a rattler all right—a toy one, made of plastic.

It's Ladies' Day in Berlin Dentistry

The dental classes at the Free University of Berlin are overcrowded these days—with women. The influx of women in dentistry makes every day a ladies' day in classrooms such as this. Here, Professor Ulrich Fehr gives his students—all of them women but one—a lesson in filling cavities. The university was established by the western powers to accommodate students barred from the Soviet-sector University of Berlin because their parents weren't workers. County Jailer is Cleaning up Yard

Clark Woolery, Pettis county jailer, is not to be out done by his wife, who recently "dressed up" the inside of the jail quarters.

Mr. Woolery, together with a couple of trustees this morning was doing a general clean-up job in the rear yard.

The prisoners seemed to enjoy the outside air, and sunshine while they worked on re-hanging garage and coal shed doors. Debris is being burned.

The rear fence is being re-modeled and a spot alongside the fence will be spaded up so Mrs. Woolery may plant flowers.

The American Legion Auxiliary to Post 16 met at the Legion Hall Wednesday night.

Mrs. George F. Chambers presided over the business session.

Mrs. A. M. Harlan, chairman of the Girls State committee, reported that Margaret Ann Wade had been chosen to attend the Girls State, which will be held at William Woods college, Fulton, in June.

Mrs. Chambers then introduced Mrs. A. A. Studebaker, who is chairman of the Child Welfare department of the auxiliary. Mrs. Studebaker gave a talk on work being done in Pettis county by the American Red Cross and Welfare agencies.

A social meeting followed, at which time Miss Dorothy Burford served refreshments.

Kem Measure Is Turned Down

WASHINGTON, April 8.—(AP)—The Senate today refused to prohibit use of the $5,500,000,000 European aid funds for nationalization or socialization of European industries.

It turned down, 62 to 29, an amendment by Senator Kem (R-Mo.) to bar use of dollars or dollar credits "by such participating country directly or indirectly, to acquire and operate in whole or in part any basic industry as a nationalized industry."

Kem and other supporters argued that Socialism was linked with Communism and made it plain the provision was aimed at policies of the labor government in England.

Senator Connally (D-Tex.), floor manager, who has been trying to get Senate passage of the bill for three weeks, said the Kem proposal would be "impossible to administer."

He quoted Economic Cooperation Administrator Paul Hoffman as saying the restriction "would undermine the entire recovery program" and be used to bolster Communist propaganda that the United States is trying to dominate Europe.

The quick vote on this amendment began less than a half hour after the Senate met—might indicate the Senate was in a mood to clear away a batch of amendments and reach a final vote.

Searching For Derelict Craft

NEW YORK, April 8.—(AP)—Ships and planes teamed today to search for a derelict schooner on which two small children were believed aboard although another schooner reported it may have been the one sighted two days ago drifting off the South Carolina coast.

A crew member of the schooner Windfall advised the coast guard today the craft was in the approximate area in which the tanker Cleveland reported sighting a battered schooner wallowing in the ocean 70 miles off Charleston, S. C.

Earlier information pieced together by the coast guard tentatively identified the schooner as the Keewatin on which Donald Parrot of Salem, Mass., set sail from the Bahamas April 1. Parrot was accompanied by his wife and two children.

Seven coast guard planes and four cutters began an intensive search of east coast waters at dawn. The hunt was spurred by speculation that Parrot and his wife may have been washed overboard, leaving their two children locked below decks.

May Be Entering Great Period of History

Painting a rosy picture of the current economic situation, Snyder said in an address for the Executive club of Chicago that confidence in the future is important.

Missing Man Has Been Seen

WHITESBURG, Ky., April 8.—(AP)—A mother and three sons held on murder charges were released today after a telephone call from Cincinnati informing that their missing husband and father was alive.

Sheriff Herman Combs said that Herman Leon storekeeper, near Kingdom Come, who had been unreported since March 5, was known to have spent last Sunday and Monday nights with a daughter in Cincinnati.

Mrs. Amanda Leon, 48, and her three teen age sons had been arrested two days ago on the strength of a story by a younger son that he saw his mother and brothers kill the 55-year-old Leon at their country store, and bury him.

Combs said the call was received from Mrs. Goldie Hunter, a daughter of Leon, who told of Leon's visit to Cincinnati.

"There was nothing to do but release them," the sheriff said of Mrs. Leon and the sons.

"They were real happy," the sheriff added. Mrs. Leon was quoted as saying she didn't bear ill will over her arrest.

"He was missing, and of course you had to find him," she said, adding that she "knew there weren't nothin' wrong."

CONFIRMS DEATH SENTENCE

FRANKFURT, Germany, April 8.—(AP)—Gen. Lucius D. Clay confirmed today the death sentence against SS Col. Joachim Peiper, who ordered the Malmady massacre of captured American soldiers.

More than 900 American prisoners and Belgian civilians were slaughtered in the Malmady area of Belgium during the battle of the Bulge in 1944 and 73 Waffen SS (Elite Guard) veterans were adjudged guilty by an American court in July, 1948.

U.C. Professor

CINCINNATI, April 8.—(AP)—A University of Cincinnati faculty member joined the ranks of the legendary absent minded professor yesterday—because of two articles of clothing.

The professor—whose name was withheld—attended a university student sale of lost and found articles. He hung his coat and hat on a rack among the for sale items. A U. C. employee happened along and liked the coat and hat, handed a student a dollar and walked off with the clothing.

The mistake was corrected later. The professor got back his coat and hat and the employee his dollars.

Masters Golf Tourney, Led By Mangrum

Took 3 Strokes Off Par With A 35-34-69

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 8.—(AP)—The masters tournament sailed into the second round today in the wake of Lloyd Mangrum and the ebb tide golf of the one-time favorite, Dr. Cary Middlecoff.

Mangrum, whose golf money winnings this year are ahead of everyone's, took three strokes off par at the Augusta National with a 34-35-69.

Before masters play began on the 6,900-yard course, Dr. Middlecoff was top choice and Mangrum second. But Mangrum, a twice wounded veteran from Niles, Ill., now is the choice to go on to victory.

Middlecoff, who resigned from Memphis dentistry for golf, was far from his game in the first round which required 76 strokes. That lofty score put him in a tie for 29th place.

Stranahan In Second Place
Just behind Mangrum was Toledo's spark plug fortune heir, Frank Stranahan, with a 35-35-70.

One of the old names of American golf was bracketed with three others in a tie for third place. Johnny Revolta of Evanston, Ill., a star of the early thirties, spotted par a stroke with a 71.

Cards Snapped A Six-Game Losing Streak

Schoendienst Led Way For St. Louis With Two Homers

SHREVEPORT, La., April 8.—(AP)—Trade talk continues between the New York Giants and the Brooklyn Dodgers.

The Giants came here without Manager Leo Durocher who stayed behind for a short time, to confer further with Branch Rickey, president of the Dodgers. There was no announcement, but Durocher is understood to be still seeking one or two utility infielders and a pitcher on a cash basis plus some second string Giant materials.

BEAUMONT, Tex., April 8.—(AP)—The New York Yankees have a new candidate for their mud-died first base situation. He's Bill Johnson, their veteran third baseman.

Manager Casey Stengel played Johnson at first for one inning in an intra-squad game yesterday before the Yanks broke camp at St. Petersburg, Fla.

SHREVEPORT, La., April 8.—(AP)—At least one Cleveland Indian about whom the Browns might not want to worry is — Shortstop Lou Boudreau.

Lou hit a home run, a double and a single as the Tribe topped the New York Giants 11-8 at Fort Worth yesterday. His starting contribution, however, was a stolen base — his first of the exhibition schedule. He took second on Catcher Walker Cooper, sliding in neatly away from the tag.

Bob Feller got socked for nine hits in five innings and was behind 6-3 when Mike Garcia relieved him. Cooper greeted Garcia by pounding a homer over the left field fence, but Mike went on to get credit for the victory.

PENSACOLA, Fla., April 8.—(AP)—Red Schoendienst celebrated his debut as a center fielder for the St. Louis Cardinals yesterday by hitting two homers and a single and driving in seven runs.

The Cards trimmed the Cincinnati Reds, 13-8, to snap a six-game losing streak. Schoendienst has been an infielder. He may remain in center field, however, because of a weak throwing arm.

St. Louis moved to New Orleans today for an engagement with the New Orleans Pelicans of the Southern Association.

DALLAS, Tex., April 8.—(AP)—Roy Smalley, the big Chicago Cub shortstop continues to delight manager Charlie Grimm with his hitting in exhibition games.

Smalley was held to a single in the Cubs' 7 to 1 decision over the St. Louis Browns yesterday, but Smalley has belted out 30 hits, including 10 homers, two triples and seven doubles.

Dutch Leonard was slated to pitch for the Cubs today against the Browns' Dick Starr in the eleventh and concluding game of their spring series.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 8.—(AP)—Vic Wertz, battling to keep his right field starting berth with the Detroit Tigers, should have it pretty well clinched now.

He slugged two home runs and a single yesterday as the Tigers took a 10 to 1 win over Memphis of the Southern Association. They play the Chiefs again tonight.

ATLANTA, Ga., April 8.—(AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers and Jackie Robinson shoot at a new turnstile record tonight in the opener of a three game series with the Atlanta Crackers.

Robinson, the Dodgers' star Negro second baseman, was the big attraction last night at Macon when 6,124 watched the big leaguers smother the Macon Peaches of the South Atlantic League, 11-2, in an exhibition. About half the record crowd was Negro.

The appearance of Robinson marked the first time in Georgia baseball history that a Negro played on a white team. Against another white team, Roy Campanella, the other Negro on the Dodger squad, did not play. He appeared only as a warmup catcher.

Robinson's enthusiastic fans saw him collect three singles and a walk in five appearances at the plate. He drove in two runs and scored one. In the fourth inning, he apparently stole home but was sent back to third base when the hurried pitch hit batter Carl Furillo. He fielded four chances perfectly.

Argument Over Winning Pennant

BOSTON, April 8.—(AP)—Are the Boston Braves about to begin defense of their National League championship at sword points with their manager?

The fuss was kicked up today when Dave Egan wrote in his Boston Daily Record column the tribe is "on the verge of open revolt" against Manager Billy Southworth and is "staggering under the savage impact of open discussion."

The players were described by Egan as resentful for several reasons, particularly because Southworth "has boasted in their presence that he, and he alone, masterminded them to a pennant."

Writing from Columbia, S. C., Hy Hurwitz reported in the Boston Globe some of the players resented being fêted as the man who drove an inferior team to a pennant.

Southworth sharply denied any dissension. So did those players who were questioned at Columbia where the tribe plays an exhibition today.

"There is no word of truth in the report," Southworth retorted in the South Carolina city.

"The club has been methodical getting in shape and usually when a club isn't winning there are all sort of rumors."

Southworth seemed to take in stride the fact the Braves have a losing record (8-13) in their spring exhibition games.

"Nobody's been bearing down too hard except in games against the (Boston) Red Sox and we've beaten them two out of three," he said.

Button Judged First In U. S. Figure Skating

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., April 8.—(AP)—The six year reign of Gretchen Merrill as queen of U. S. figure skating is tottering. But Dick Button, king of the sport since 1946, is well on his way to a fourth championship.

The Boston blonde ice artist placed third yesterday in the compulsory figures phase of the 1949 championships. They count 60 per cent toward deciding the winner. She trailed behind Yvonne Sherman of Brooklyn and Andrea McLaughlin of Colorado Springs and New York.

Button, Englewood, N. J., star, was just first by all five judges in the compulsory figures of the men's division.

Thirteen year old Tenley Albright of Boston skated off with the novice women's championship last night with a brilliant victory over Nancy Mineard, Akron, Ohio. Mary Louisa Haas, Tulsa, Okla., was third.

High C. Graham, 15, of Tulsa, won the novice men's championship on the strength of a large lead acquired in compulsory figures.

Four States Will Play Off The Semi-Finals

ANDERSON, Ind., April 8.—(AP)—State champions from Oregon, Ohio, and Indiana and the defending titleholders from Minnesota, were semi-finalists in tonight's national Veterans of Foreign Wars basketball tournament.

Astoria, Ore., and Akron, O., will meet in the first game and Winamac, Ind., will face the title in the second game.

Astoria advanced beating Aurora, Neb., last night, 66 to 42. Akron, with Jim Finn scoring 24 points, in the fourth quarter beat Anaconda, Mont., 63 to 52. Mankato also staged a rugged fourth quarter drive to beat Fairfield, Ia., 65 to 47.

In consolation bracket games yesterday, Minneapolis defeated Carter, Colo., 50 to 46; Berwick, Pa., beat Lawrence, Kas., 69 to 58; and Alcester, S. D., shipped Madisonville, Ky., 55 to 48.

Seventeen Colleges Adjudged Violators

SAVANNAH, Ga., April 8.—(AP)—Seventeen NCAA colleges have been adjudged in "flagrant" violation of the "sanity code" and 25 others are under investigation.

This disclosure was made yesterday by Prof. Clarence P. Houston of Tufts college, chairman of the NCAA Constitutional Compliance Committee.

The "sanity code" was set up to eliminate commercialism in intercollegiate athletics. It limits the amount of aid, financial and otherwise, that may be given athletes.

Houston did not disclose the names of schools found to be violating the code or of those being studied to determine whether they are complying.

Mickey Owen Wins Damage Suit $51,428

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., April 8.—(AP)—Arnold Malcolm "Mickey" Owen, former Brooklyn Dodgers catcher, was richer today — on paper, at least — by $51,428.56.

That's how much a federal court jury awarded him last night out of his $71,260.88 counterclaim against Jorge Pasquel, the baseball magnate of Mexico City. Pasquel had sued for $127,000, accusing Owen of breach of contract.

Undoubtedly Victor Harris, Pasquel's St. Louis attorney, will appeal the judgment, although he couldn't be reached for comment today. The hotel where he had been staying reported he was "not registered."

But even if Owen is declared final winner, collection of the judgment will be tough. Attaching property in a foreign country takes a bit of doing.

Attorney Richard Farrington of Springfield, one of three lawyers representing Owen, wasn't talking too much today about their strategy in the event of final victory.

One possibility, he said, would be to sue in Mexico on the U. S. judgment. He compared it to a procedure used in the U. S. when a resident of one state gets judgment against a resident of another. "We wouldn't have to prove the facts again," Farrington said, "and we already have enough personal service on Pasquel."

Judgment service, he said, would be wasted motion.

Look For U. S. Holdings
Easiest way, of course would be to find U. S. holdings Pasquel might have and attach them. If there are any and Farrington knows about them, he wasn't saying so.

Owen said today that unless something happens to open the way for his return to organized baseball, he probably will manage an independent team this summer in Winner, S. D.

He said he never has had any opposition from baseball commissioner A. B. Chandler as to his non-organized baseball activities. He carries a letter from Chandler, written to another person, which explains that Owen's baseball activities are sanctioned as long as men not under the jurisdiction of organized baseball do not play with him.

Owen said he carries the letter for the assurance of young players who feel their later chances might be damaged.

Fighter Sued For $100,000

CHICAGO, April 8.—(AP)—Vince Foster, headline in a Chicago Stadium boxing program tonight in his campaign for a welter-weight title match, yesterday was sued for $100,000 by a Kansas City girl who charged him with forcible rape.

Criminal rape charges against the 22-year old Omaha boxer were dismissed last March 21 in St. Joseph, Mo., for lack of evidence.

In a suit filed in circuit court yesterday, Miss Alice Smetta, 23, said that Foster raped and beat her on a highway near St. Joseph, Mo., on Feb. 7. She said in her suit that she is pregnant as a result of the alleged attack.

O. R. Newcomer, St. Joseph prosecutor, in dropping the criminal rape charges against Foster, said a report by a physician who examined Miss Smetta, did not contain evidence that would bring a conviction. Foster has denied the attack on Miss Smetta, who is an office manager. He said he met her while visiting relatives in Kansas City and drove with her to St. Joseph.

Architect's Drawing of the East Sedalia Baptist Church

The members of the East Sedalia Baptist church have designated Sunday as the time to raise $17,000 for their Building Fund. This, they hope, will be raised in cash and in pledges to be paid within 60 days. They hope to raise this amount to augment the $6,000 now in the fund.

The church began a $75,000 building program about a year ago. Among other improvements and remodeling, the plans call for a full basement and two stories to be built across the two lots at the rear of their present building. The basement, 107 feet long and 54 feet wide, constructed of steel and re-enforced concrete, had been completed "in the rough" at an approximate cost of $12,000.00. The next two stories will be of steel, re-enforced concrete and brick. When completed, this unit will be fire-proof and sound-proof throughout.

The Building committee and the contractor estimate it will take $17,000.00 to go on up with these two stories, completing them "in the rough." The church voted to proceed with the erection as soon as that amount of money is in sight. The pastor and people are very hopeful that the amount raised Sunday, along with the amount now in the building fund, will make it possible to go on up with these two stories.

Amen

The Hebrew expression Amen is perhaps the most widely known word in human speech. It is used in prayer and worship not only by Christians and Jews, but in a minor degree by Mohammedans.

Amen is a word rich in significance. As an affirmation, it signifies "so be it." As an expression of assent, it means "so it is," or "so it will be." It has been used in the secular sense of "yes," but with more than ordinary emphasis.

In harmony with the meaning "so it will be," was Christ's usage of Amen to underscore the gravity and importance of what He was about to say. In this case, Amen is translated as "verily." Many of St. Paul's mightiest assertions are strengthened with an Amen.

The most common use of Amen by Protestants and Catholics alike is at the end of the Lord's prayer. It also appears in many hymns as a final graceful and impressive punctuation.

Amen is also appended to the recitation of the Act of Contrition by Catholics. It then serves as an added prayer that God may bless and strengthen the penitent sinner's determination to avoid sin and its occasions in the future.

Because of its familiarity, the word Amen may have come to lose some of its edge. But a little reflection should serve to recapture some of its significance and beauty.

Whether we pray at church or at home, aloud or silently, the syllables of the Amen should be formed with deep reverence and full recollection. Amen is man's most frequent vocal obeisance to God. It merits all the solemnity and dignity with which we can invest it.

In repeating the Amen, we should think of God as the ultimate Amen, the Infinite Lover filled with tenderness and compassion, Whose arms will be an eternal refuge to all who have given Him true and abiding homage—to all who have learned to say "so be it" to whatsoever He has willed.

The Ministry of Jesus
'Beyond Jordan'
By William E. Gilroy, D. D.

We call Jesus "The Man of Galilee," and we think of His ministry as chiefly in that region where He grew up. In the home of His parents, where was the Sea of Galilee from which He called the fishermen to be His first disciples; and of Jerusalem and its environment in Judea, where were Bethlehem and Bethany, and the Mount of Olives.

A glance at the map of ancient Palestine, with a reference to the details in the four Gospels, shows how large and important a part of the ministry of Jesus was in other parts, outside of Galilee and Judea. In John 4, it is stated that when He went to Galilee, He wished to go to Galilee and that He "must needs go through Samaria." The map shows why that was so, for Samaria lay right between Judea and Galilee, all the way from the Jordan to the Mediterranean. We are glad that Jesus had to go through Samaria, for that necessity gave us the wonderful story of His meeting with the Samaritan woman at the Well of Jacob, with the declaration of His Messiahship, and the great words concerning true worship.

There was, however, another way that Jesus might have gone, if He had chosen to cross the River Jordan twice. And on His last journey from Galilee to Jerusalem it was this that He did, entering Judea from the farther, or eastern, side of Jordan. It is not quite clear at just what point He crossed the Jordan, but the journey with His disciples to Jerusalem from beyond the Jordan brought them through the region known as Perea.

Perea was a region of high mountains, wooded slopes, rich fields, and fertile valleys, where mountain streams watered great olive groves and vineyards. It must have been an alluring region for a Master who so loved the land and its treasures; but the shadow of the Cross was looming heavily upon Him. He sensed the dangers awaiting Him at the end of that journey, and mystery and sadness encompassed the disciples as they heard the words they so little understood.

It was on this journey that He blessed the little children; the rich young man came to Him and went away sorrowful, renouncing his great opportunity; the sons of Zebedee, the "Boanerges," still full of the idea of an earthly kingdom, were out to get the preferred places, and to them and to the ten other disciples, "Moved with indignation," Jesus sought to impart the lesson concerning true greatness, in humility, ministry and service. It was a most significant journey and one that the disciples were long and deeply to remember.

The enlightenment only came after the Resurrection. Then they understood the words that were so full of puzzlement and mystery. But the experiences of that journey must have had a large part in their new faith.

Perhaps we, also must journey with Jesus "beyond Jordan," if we would understand the mystery of His mission and ours.

ROGER THE LODGER
By Elizabeth R. Roberts

THE STORY: Mr. and Mrs. Roberts accept a roomer to relieve the wartime housing shortage. This lodger, known as Roger, is a sergeant attached to the airplane base at Great Falls, Mont., where the Roberts live. Roger takes over the home, uses their car, takes advantage of their hospitality and turns everything upside down. As a result Roger gets an appointment for office training. While Roger is away, Mrs. Roberts lets four young construction engineers occupy the main's vacant apartment in the basement. She discovers that the new lodgers are bad housekeepers. Then Lieutenant Vickery calls and wants to rent the guest room.

AS I opened the door to him, he turned on both his dimples to their maximum candle power. "Won't you come in," I said, indicating the living room. He was already halfway up the stairs. "Which way is your guest room?" he asked, flashing those dimples again.

He was young—not more than 22, I guessed—exuberant, broad-shouldered, handsome, and, worst of all, winsome. Protesting, I followed him up the stairs.

"This is a lovely home you got here, Mr. Roberts," he said. Like a bloodhound, he followed his nose to the guest room. "Now this is something like!" he exclaimed, as he entered the room. I was surprised he thought so, for my guest room is Early Girlie Dinmore with chintz, ruffles, and bows on lamp shades. "Sally Fluff! I love this!"

"Sally Fluff?"

"Mah bride, ma'am," he said proudly.

"Where are you living now?" I asked.

"At the Green Hotel."

"Ah, then you have a place to take Sally."

"Mr. Roberts," he said earnestly, "have you ever lived at the Green Hotel?"

"No."

"Well, ma'am, it's all right for a pile of fellows, Ah guess, but you doan know what your saying if you say it'd be all right for Sally Fluff. She's pretty and she's young and she hasn't ever lived away from home before. She wouldn't know how to handle herself amongst all those men. They're wolves, that's what they are. Ah can't stand to think of them ogling her every time she goes out or comes in the door. Ah can't be home all the time."

"I know how you feel," I said, "and it reflects the greatest credit on you, but this room has only a single bed."

"Ah'll move in an army cot for me."

"Not on your life! We tried that once. Even a rat can learn." Vickery looked startled by this off-hand remark, as though he thought I had taken leave of my senses. Whatever doubts he entertained of my sanity, he didn't allow them to stand in his way. "Then Ah'll just naturally sleep on the floor," he snapped on his dimples again. "Ah've got to have this room."

I WAS beaten, I knew that, but I at least wanted to help write the Peace. "I've never had another woman living in the house," I began. "I don't know how it'll work out. One thing I do know: I can't have her in my kitchen, or in the laundry. We have four men living in our basement. What I meant was I didn't want 'things' eternally hung up to dry. And I'll be very poor company. It'll go against the grain with me not to be more hospitable. And I'm afraid it will hurt Sally."

"No, it won't," he interrupted eagerly. "Ah've got it figured out. Sally likes to lie in bed maw'nin'. Ah'll get me a vacuum bottle and have it filled with coffee every night last thing before we come home, and we'll keep fruit and doughnuts and cinnamon rolls and stuff like that in our room and she'll make her breakfast off that. Ah get home 'round 4 o'clock. Then Ah'll take her over town and buy her a good lunch. We'll have our dinner late at the Officers' Club." He tilted his head to a beguiling angle. "You wouldn't object if Sally Fluff rinsed out a few things in our bathroom, would you?"

I tried to regard him coldly. He flashed the dimples.

That night I located the toy ironing board, traveler's iron, clothes line, and washboard I took with me on trips. I fixed up a tray with Roger's silex, cups and dishes, added a can opener and tea towels and a small electric grill which would boil, fry, broil, toast, and poach, and set the whole business up in Vickery's room. I made the supreme sacrifice by trading my beloved double bed for the guest room single.

IN spite of all Sonny Boy had said about Sally sleeping in the mornings, when I developed a cold she insisted upon preparing trays for me. Only one who has eaten grapefruit from the half shell cut the wrong way can appreciate the experience. Juice ran down my arms and dripped off my elbows as, propped up in bed, I attempted to remove the wrong-way-Corrigan fruit from its lengthwise sections. I asked Sally to bring a grapefruit to my room and I showed her how to cut it, not from pole to pole, but around the equator.

"Oh, that way!" Next day it was cut end to end again.

"Sally—" I began reprovingly. She laughed gaily. "I never was any good at arithmetic."

She thought some gelatin would be just right for my dinner. I didn't get the dessert that night for supper, and I didn't have it the next day. The third day I was able to go downstairs. "Oh, it isn't set yet," Sally said.

"Did you bring the water to a boil?"

"Right to here," Sally said, pointing to the level on the cup, and paying no attention to my question. I yielded to her superior charm. While I had the dessert on the stove coming to a boil, I walked to the window to look out. On the sill in the full sunlight was a bowl of sliced greens.

"What's this?" I asked.

"A surprise for your dinner. I love wilted lettuce, don't you?"

Hope In Drug For Alcoholics

DETROIT, Mich., April 8—(AP)—"Hope for hopeless" alcoholics, through use of the new drug antabuse, was held out Thursday by a Canadian doctor.

Dr. R. Gordon Bell of Toronto told of his experience with the compound on "25 or 30" chronic Canadian alcoholics. He is attending a medical meeting here, and is among the first doctors in North America to make use of the Danish drug.

He is "most impressed" with results, he said, adding that the drug has "terrific possibilities."

Persons who have taken the drug, and who then consume alcohol, he said, have violent physical reaction, including headaches and vomiting.

A person taking antabuse regularly after this treatment doesn't want to drink, Dr. Bell said. "He just can't," he added.

The use of the drug, he said, also must be accompanied by rehabilitation work with the individual. The chief value of the medicine, he noted, is in providing this "uninterrupted period of sobriety" in which the personality work may be done.

Retirement Age For Miners Is Reduced

WASHINGTON, April 8—(AP)—John L. Lewis and Senator Bridges (R-NH) as trustees of the United Mine Workers pension fund, Thursday reduced the retirement age for coal miners from 67 years to 60.

The decision to reduce the age for retirement was actually made by Senator Bridges, the neutral among the three trustees Lewis represents the miners and originally demanded than pensions be paid at age 60.

Kirk May Be Chosen Envoy

WASHINGTON, April 8—(AP)—Vice Admiral Alan G. Kirk, a naval commander of World War II who can play the diplomatic game with a poker face, is understood to be the President's choice for American ambassador to Moscow.

Kirk has been ambassador to Belgium and minister to Luxembourg, holding both posts simultaneously, since February, 1946. At present he is in Washington for consultation. Assuming he is personally acceptable to the Kremlin, President Truman is expected to announce his appointment soon.

Like any other top flight government official or diplomat, Kirk's appointment would depend on his approval by the Senate.

The 60-year-old admiral, one of the naval commanders in the cross-channel invasion of France in the last war, would succeed Lt. Gen. Walter Bedell Smith who resigned as ambassador to the Soviet Union March 25 after three years service.

Smith has returned to active army service and now is commander of the First Army with headquarters at New York City.

Slater Druggist Dead by Hanging

SLATER, Mo., April 8—(AP)—John B. Land, 88, druggist, died Thursday by hanging in what Dr. C. L. Lawless, coroner, said was suicide.

The body was found in a room of the city library of which he was a board member. He was a druggist here 65 years.

He was the father of Estelle Land, who before her death was the wife of Donald Nelson, former WPA chief. Mrs. Nelson and a 17-month-old son, Donald Nelson, Jr., are buried here.

Half of Estate To Go to Maid

KANSAS CITY, April 8—(AP)—Mrs. Beatrice Turner who served for 30 years as maid and chauffeur in the household of the late Mrs. Estelle Hager Thursday was named beneficiary of half of her employer's estate.

No estimate was made of the amount in the will filed for probate, but friends estimated the estate may amount to $100,000. Mrs. Hager was the widow of Gerald F. Hager, formerly a member of the Kansas City Star's staff.

There were two bequests, $5,000 to a cousin, Mrs. Viola Kimball, Springer, N. M., and that of a cat and a dog to Mrs. Turner. The remainder of the estate is to be divided between Mrs. Turner and Mrs. Frances Rosenbury, Bethesda, N. Y.

Mrs. Turner, who had known of the provisions of the will, frequently said she would build herself a home.

She could not be reached for comment Thursday. She had an offer of a day's work and had taken it.

Indict Mohurin On Wife's Death

FARMINGTON, Mo., April 8—(AP)—A true bill charging William C. Mahurin with the first degree murder of his "lonely hearts club" bride was returned Thursday by a special St. Francois county grand jury.

Mahurin, 52-year-old former convict, has been held without bond since March 24. His wife, the former Mrs. Charlotte Thelma Fisk, 46, was found dead March 17 on the farm she and her husband moved to the day before. She had burns on her body and Mahurin told authorities her clothing had caught fire when a kerosene stove exploded in the kitchen.

Tests by laboratory experts of the highway patrol showed there had been no explosion in the stove and doctors expressed the belief she could not have died so quickly from burns.

Mrs. Mahurin, a divorcee, married Mahurin last December after meeting him several months earlier at a lonely hearts club dance in St. Louis.

Stabs Little Brother Who Cried to Death

PORTAGE, Pa., April 8—(AP)—John Packauski, 18, stabbed his two-year-old brother to death Thursday "because he wouldn't quit crying," Cambria county detective John Castel reported.

The victim was Walter Packauski, youngest of seven children of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Packauski. The father is a coal miner in this small community about 18 miles east of Johnstown.

Castel said John—Whom he described as "a backward youth"—freely admitted the slaying in a signed statement. He said John will be charged with murder.

Sticks by Call For Added Taxes

WASHINGTON, April 8—(AP)—President Truman stuck by his repeated call for additional taxes Thursday.

The President, who never has deviated from his original request for revising levies by $4,000,000,000, told a news conference that he has said all he needs to say on the subject.

His position, he declared, hasn't changed since he first recommended the rise to Congress.
